

EXPERIENTIAL ACTIVITIES FOR TEACHING
CAREER COUNSELING CLASSES
AND FOR FACILITATING CAREER GROUPS
Volume One

EDITED BY:

MARK POPE

University of Missouri-St. Louis

CAROLE W. MINOR

Northern Illinois University

National Career Development Association
Tulsa, Oklahoma

A founding division of the American Counseling Association

NCDA opposes discrimination against any individual on the basis of race, ethnicity, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, religion, socioeconomic status, mental/physical disability, creed, or any other characteristics not specifically relevant to job performance. (NCDA Board of Directors, January 2003)

PREFACE

This book had its genesis over a ten-year period of attempting to find the right combination of content and process in teaching effective career development courses. Both of us, as teachers and practitioners of career counseling, know how exciting our field is, but transferring that excitement to our students and to our clients has not always been easy. Our goal in writing this book was to help counselor educators, community college instructors, and those who facilitates career counseling groups to present career development concepts and activities in exciting and interesting ways.

At the Association for Counselor Education and Supervision Conference in Portland, Oregon, USA in 1997, Carole Minor along with one of her colleagues, Fran Giordano, presented experiential activities for teaching career counseling. Mark Pope was in attendance and had been struggling with this important professional issue in his own classes. The idea of this book grew out of that presentation and subsequent discussions. Both of us were excited about the need for such a book, and decided to take the idea to the National Career Development Association (NCDA) as a service to NCDA members and others who teach career development classes or facilitate career development groups. We presented the idea to the members of the NCDA Board of Directors, who became just as enthusiastic as we were.

The call for contributions was distributed through the newsletters and listserves of NCDA, the Society for Vocational Psychology (a section of Division 17, Counseling Psychology, of the American Psychological Association), the Guidance Division of the American Career and Technical Education Association, the California Community College Counselors Association, and the California Career Development Association. The response was immediate and overwhelming as activities flooded in from all of these sources. We had many more excellent activities than we could use in this volume, which we hope is only the first. From the responses that we have received at conferences and from individual requests, we realize that this effort represents a genuine need in the profession.

As you can see from the biographies that are included in Appendix A, the contributors to this first volume are many of the important scientists and practitioners of our profession. We have taken their best tried-and-true activities for both the classroom and the career group, organized them, and presented them for your use. We are grateful to each of them for their contributions to this volume, for the time it took to prepare and present each activity, and, particularly, for their willingness to share their best activities with the rest of us.

This was a true labor of love for us both. The writing of the book was not without its problems. We experienced some delays because Carole was not in the best of health and Mark was in his first year of transition from private practice in San Francisco to a faculty position at the University of Missouri in St. Louis. We thank the contributors for their patience and hope you find that using the activities in this book enhances your work. As you use the activities, we would appreciate any feedback that you might have for us or our contributing authors. Please send all of your comments to us in care of NCDA, 10820 E. 45th Street, Suite 210, Tulsa, OK 74146 or email: dpennington@ncda.org.

Mark Pope and Carole Minor

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
SECTION 1: INTRODUCTION TO CAREER ISSUES	1
1. Career Lifeline Robert W. Lent and Ruth E. Fassinger	3
2. Career Services I Needed Carole W. Minor and Beverly Celotta	5
3. Appreciating the Importance of Career In Our Lives Mark Pope	6
4. My Career Journey! Toni R. Tollerud	8
5. The Work/Employment History Paper Donald G. Hays	9
6. StoryTech: A Narrative Approach to Career Assessment Judith D. Emmett	15
7. What is the Meaning of Career? What is Career Counseling? Judith D. Emmett	17
8. Developing a Class Career Development Theory Jane Goodman	20
9. The New Job Offer James J. Bergin	22
SECTION 2: THEORY APPLICATION	25
10. Adult Development Case Studies Lynette Heim Bikos	27
11. Career Interviews Carole W. Minor	30
12. Use of “Lifestage Interview Protocol” to Facilitate Students’ Practical Understanding of Career Development Dynamics as They Relate to Salient Theories of Career Development James F. Malone	32
13. Use of Case Study Analysis to Make Explicit the Value of Career Development Theories in Career Counseling James F. Malone	34
14. 35 UP — A Longitudinal Study in Which the Premise, “Give Me the Boy Until he is Seven, and I will Give You the Man” is Validated Laurie L. Williamson	36
15. Theory-to-Practice Case Study Exercise Francesca G. Giordano	38

Table of Contents

16.	A Career Development Roundtable Featuring Career Theories	45
	Chris Brown
17.	Career Development Theory Debate	49
	Andrew A. Helwig
18.	Teaching Career Development Theories Using Cinema	50
	Sarah M. Toman and Carl F. Rak
19.	Exploring Roe's Parental Attitudes in Relation to Middle/Junior	52
	High School Student Self-Knowledge Peter A. Manzi
SECTION 3: ASSESSMENT AND VALUES CLARIFICATION.		55
20.	RIASEC Quilt	57
	Catha Loomis
21.	Holland Feud	59
	Lynette Heim Bikos
22.	Losing Everything: A Group Risk-Taking Task	62
	Mary Lee Swickert
23.	Practice and Comparison of the Self-Directed Search	67
	and Career Genograms Debra Preston
24.	"My Vocational Inheritance": A Career Genogram	69
	Kathleen Waldron and Catha Loomis
25.	Plant Some Seeds	71
	Lynette Heim Bikos
26.	Experiencing Temperaments	73
	Thuan Bui
27.	Work Ethics	74
	Gloria Dansby-Giles
28.	Existentially Speaking	75
	Richard T. Kinnier
29.	"Sophie's Choice": A Values Sorting Activity	77
	Spencer G. Niles
30.	A Career Profile	80
	William M. Kahnweiler
31.	Creative Movement and the Career Decision Process	82
	Carlotta J. Willis
32.	Occupational Characteristics – Status/Prestige	85
	David A. Jepsen
33.	Career Fantasies and Developing your Personal Inventory	89
	Janet Steele Walters and Leslie Lumsden

Table of Contents

34.	Values Auction	93
	Janet Steele Walters and Leslie Lumsden
35.	Positive Personal Qualities	96
	Janet Steele Walters and Leslie Lumsden
36.	Summary of Self-Assessment	101
	Janet Steele Walters and Leslie Lumsden
SECTION 4: OCCUPATIONAL INFORMATION RESOURCES.....		105
37.	Round Robin Career Information Activity	107
	Francesca G. Giordano
38.	Creating Career Information Classroom Guidance Activities	109
	Debra Preston
39.	Widgets and Wages	110
	Lynette Heim Bikos
40.	Gaining Greater Control of Your Career: Four Types of Potential	112
	Job/Career Changes and Related Strategies for Dealing with Them Effectively David P. Helfand
41.	Developing Realistic Career Pathways	116
	Toni R. Tollerud
42.	Career Awareness Exercise	117
	Thuan Bui
SECTION 5: CAREER COUNSELING		119
43.	Matching Counseling Environment With Type: An Exploration	121
	of Differential Treatment Approaches Margaretha S. Lucas
44.	Career Counseling: Practice and Reflection	123
	Judith D. Emmett
45.	Skills Demonstration, Using the Career Exploration Inventory	124
	Debra Preston
46.	How to Actually Do Career Counseling	125
	Mark Pope
47.	A Developmental Career Information Grid	130
	Mark Pope
48.	Problem-Based Learning: An Effective Way of Conducting	133
	Career Development Classes Forrest Chan, Frederick Ho, and Andrew Ng
49.	Career Counseling Expectations	137
	Judith D. Emmett
50.	Career Counseling and Assessment Tapes	139
	Judith D. Emmett

Table of Contents

51.	Self-Study Assignment: An Extensive Series of Assignments that Mirror Bolles' Parachute Model Thomas S. Krieshok	142
52.	Student Presentations on Topics Related to Career Counseling Alma G. Leal	145
53.	Identifying Effective Strategies for Coping with Career-Related Barriers Darrell Anthony Luzzo	151
54.	The Role Factors Suggested by Career Development Theory Play in Career Decision-Making Peter A. Manzi	154
55.	The Family Career Tree Activity Francis Alix	158
56.	The Dream Vacation Activity Francis Alix	160
SECTION 6: IDENTIFYING AND DEVELOPING SERVICES		163
57.	Evaluating Career Services Providers: Developing a Community Resource File Mark Pope	165
58.	Career Development Services: What Exists, What is Needed Judith D. Emmett	167
59.	Designing a Career Center for Your Organization: A Small Group Activity Mark Pope	169
60.	A Career Development Proposal William M. Kahnweiler	171
61.	Career Center Proposal Debra Preston	173
62.	Program Design and Presentation as an Integral Component of Graduate Career Development Coursework Paul A. Gore and Kristin Koetting O'Byrne	174
63.	The Three Little Kittens Listen and Learn About Work Marla P. Peterson	177
64.	Learning with Lemons: The Lemonade Stand Marla P. Peterson	180
SECTION 7: DIVERSITY		183
65.	Secret Identity: An Experiential Exercise for Increasing Awareness of Multicultural Issues in the World of Work Y. Barry Chung and Coleman Allen Gfroerer	185
66.	Critical Incidents from the Intercultural Sensitizer: A Training Tool for Cross-Cultural Career Counseling Frederick T. L. Leong and Erin E. Hardin	189

Table of Contents

67.	What Information Do I Need to Make a Realistic Career Decision:	195
	A Multicultural Analysis
	Mark Pope
68.	Increasing Counselor Sensitivity to Gay/Lesbian Career	199
	Counseling Issues
	Mark Pope
69.	Practicum in Multicultural Career Counseling	201
	Margo A. Jackson and John D. Krumboltz
SECTION 8: JOB SEARCH		205
70.	Practice Job Interviews Using Created Want-Ads	207
	Debra Preston
71.	The Perfect Applicant	208
	Thuan Bui
APPENDIX A: BIOGRAPHIES OF CONTRIBUTORS		211
APPENDIX B: GUIDELINES FOR EXPERIENTIAL ACTIVITIES FORMAT		217

2. Career Services I Needed

Authors:	Carole W. Minor, PhD, Northern Illinois University. Beverly Celotta, PhD, private practitioner, Gaithersburg, MD.
Topic:	Career issues over the lifespan.
Purpose:	To make students aware of their own career decisions, what help with those decisions they would have liked along the way (what career services they could have used), and the importance of availability of career services to people of all ages and career stages. This activity was developed in 1980 by the two authors while they were on the faculty at the University of Maryland, College Park, in the Department of Counseling and Personnel Services. It is adapted from the “career lifeline” activity that has been used with clients for decades.
Learning Objectives:	As a result of this activity, students should be able to (a) recognize the types of career services that would have been helpful in their own decision-making, (b) recognize the importance of career services to others, and (c) fully engage in learning how to provide them.
Group Size:	10-30 students.
Time Required:	30-40 min, depending on the number of students.
Setting:	Classroom or workshop room with tables and chairs. It is most useful during the first class session of a career counseling class.
Materials Needed:	An 8½ x11” sheet of paper and a writing implement for each student and a chalkboard and chalk or marker board and marker.
Instructions for Conducting the Activity:	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Ask the students to draw a line to represent their lives up until now.2. Ask them to mark the points of career decisions and write some identification for each decision.3. Ask them to think about each decision and, knowing what they know now, to jot down any types of help they would have liked with the decisions.4. After about two-thirds have finished, draw a long line on the chalk board or marker board. Mark decades to age 60, leaving more space for lower ages.5. In a large group, ask the students to state the kinds of help they would have liked and the age at which they needed particular help. Write their comments under the appropriate ages. Include comments they make about help they needed “between decisions.”
Discussion:	Usually, the needs can be categorized as information and support, such as counseling, encouragement, expanding options, and knowledge of options. Point out patterns in ages and note that these needs continue through adulthood. Discuss how this class will help them meet the career needs of others that they have identified as important to themselves.
Reference:	None.
Suggested Background Readings:	None.