

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
Preface	ix
Foreword	xiii
Chapter 1: Introduction and Ethical Foundations	1
Chapter 2: Strategies for Engaging Ethical Dilemmas	9
Chapter 3: The Code of Ethics of the National Career Development Association (Contributed by David M. Reile, PhD)	15
Chapter 4: Additional Codes of Ethics and Professional Standards Relevant to Career Development Professionals	23
Chapter 5: The Cases	37
Case #1. More than a typical resume critique: Professional relationships and limits of confidentiality	39
Case #2. Technology's new twists: Access to technology and Internet resources	43
Case #3. New spaces, fewer walls: Work environments and client confidentiality	47
Case #4. Special attention for the "best and brightest": Educating stakeholders and advocating for clients	52
Case #5. College search complications: Client rights when working with minors	56
Case #6. Curious clients in a small town: Clients with preexisting relationships in a new specialty area of practice	61
Case #7. Research collaborators turn reluctant: Professional relationships and responsibilities in research	65
Case #8. An uncomfortable third-party request: Consultation and responsibilities to multiple parties	70
Chapter 6: Integration and Next Steps	77
About the Authors	79
Appendix A. The 2007 National Career Development Association Code of Ethics (Reprinted with permission of the National Career Development Association)	80
Index	102