I Am the Portal

I am the portal through which many will pass
Determined to find a career that will last.
The entrance is not level, nor easy, nor fair
Look and you will find some students still there.
Frozen in indecision, no will, no guide
To help them through to the world so wide.
I am only a portal, but I will never close
I will never rest, I will never doze.
Travelers, please look at the opportunities vast
Go through the door to find them fast.
I saw my career, a teacher I chose to be
The best career helping others to see
Their way through the years in which they explore
The paths through their lives on the other side of the door.
