

Uneven Steps

By LisaMarie LeGrand

Uneven Steps were on my trail today...

I took a left and saw the light...and then I turned to the right as it peered into the night..
and in the middle was indecision...

SO many choices to make and places to go in this life..
I took the blocks of indecision and Started building...

A tower of the power within me....
I have to search for her ..and grasp her wings..

Wings we all have ...Wings that span far and wide...
As far as we can imagine....

To have the freedom to dream of what we can be..
And what we can achieve in this Life...

To act on what you or I are capable of.....
are some of the greatest gifts from Up above....

For this is the Freedom to be and exist.....
