

ONE WORD

One word for your neighbor
One word for your friends
One word for the old man you meet each day

One word for your sister
One word for your helper in affliction
One word for everyone who doesn't speak up for themselves

Just one word is enough to change your world
So find your voice and speak out loud
Raise your voice for a better life

By Laura Rathner