

Creating My Career Path: Embracing Change

Dr. Megan Hart

Category: Poetry, Open Adult

Creating my career path, with new dreams in mind,
Creating a journey, where purpose I find.

My heart tells me it's time for a brand-new direction,
My goals now align with a fresh introspection.

Career titles and status no longer hold sway,
Career success is redefined in a meaningful way.

Path realignment reflects my worth,
Path redirection, filled with purpose, rebirthed.

Embracing the joy in each life that I touch,
Embracing the difference that matters so much.

Change in focus, with vision anew,
Change in direction that leads me to truth.

In all my experience lessons were learned,
In the triumph and failures, they all have turned.

My perspective of time and opportunities passed,
My disappointment is now replaced with peace at last.

Journey onward, courageously hopeful and free,
Journey onward, becoming who I'm still meant to be.

Onward with purpose, guided by light,
Onward with joy, as my soul takes flight.

It's never too late to dream a new dream,
It's never too late to act on that dream.

Time to believe the best years are ahead,
Time to move forward with courage instead.